Dosch, Petrosky Returned To School Board Positions

Lovells Township, precinct III, was the last precinct reporting in the Monday, June 8th, annual school election and Lovells had a big effect on the outcome of the election. Incumbents Bernadine Dosch (181 total votes) and Pauline Petrosky (146 total votes) were reelected to the Crawford AuSable Board of Education beating out challenger David Lowe (139 total votes).

In Precinct I, the Grayling area, Dosch received 140 votes, Petrosky 109, and Lowe 108. In Precinct II, the Frederic area, Lowe received 22, Dosch 19, and Petrosky 18. In Precinct III, Dosch received 22, Petrosky 19, and Lowe 9.

Two hundred fifty seven persons voted Monday, 195 in Precinct I, 34 in Precinct II, and 28 in Precinct III. The school board terms are for four years.

8-Hour Power Outage Hits 7,600 Customers

Consumers Power customers in Roscommon, north Higgins Lake, and Grayling went without electricity for about eight hours from 11 p.m. Friday, June 5, to approximately 7 a.m. Saturday, June 6.

Len Hoofman, of Consumers Power, said a line weakened by a lightning strike went down in an isolated area north of Higgins Lake Friday night. Crews had a hard time finding the damaged line and darkness slowed repairs.

"Lightning is one of our biggest enemies," said Hoofman. "We have all kinds of lightning protection on our lines but in this case lightning found it easier to explode in the line than go on into the ground."

Hoofman said the lightning probably hit the line a few months ago and damaged an inside core supporting conductor. Although Consumers inspects the lines with foot patrols and helicopter patrols, the inside damage is hard to detect.

Power outages affect the utility companies as well as the consumers, Hoofman said. The company is losing revenue during the outage — in this one from 7,600 customers including Weyerhaeuser and Georgia Pacific — and the company has to pay overtime and repair costs.

CCC Reunion Attracts 700 To Higgins Lake

By Don Geiss

The Shanty Boys of the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) were taken off the streets and given dignity, $1 per day and a place to stay.

Those words were spoken by Rev. William Fraser of Grayling as he led the memorial services for those who have passed away and who were a part of the CCC. He commented that no matter what the politics of the members of the corps are, they must appreciate president Franklin D. Roosevelt for coming up with the idea of the work camps. He said that it should make us proud to be American to have been given the opportunity to find that dignity.

The men of the CCC and many wives held their 5th Annual Reunion last weekend. They turned out about 700 strong to reminisce about the experiences they had some 54 years ago at the various camps throughout the state. They looked up fellow workers who toiled at such places as Camp Jumbo and Camp AuSable.

They were also assembled to listen to a barrage of speakers who extolled the contributions of the CCC. James Cleary, Chief Administrative Officer for the Department of Natural Resources, told the group that 90,000 men received a set of values, self discipline and an appreciation of the outdoors. He said that employees of the DNR view their accomplishments every day when they work in the field.

Cleary also discussed the modern day Michigan Civilian Conservation Corps (MCCC) where young men and women are working at the many parks.

State Rep. Thomas Mathieu (Grand Rapids) also addressed the group and said that the evidence at their meeting site at Higgins Lake showed how well the men did in contributing to conservation. He discussed the MCCC as a bill he had sponsored which has achieved much good in the three years it has been in operation.

Mathieu attributed much of its success to the fact that it had been based on the original national plan. He said that there is current evidence that these people too are contributing to improving the outdoors through new trails and tree plantings. He observed that 66 percent of these young people have found new jobs outside the corps.

The Crawford-Roscommon area has one of the chapters that co-sponsored the reunion. Attending the meeting were Merle Matts, president of the Grayling Chapter, William Friend, vice president, Andrew Donaldson, secretary-treasurer and member Les French from Roscommon.

Mercy Hospital To Open 4-Bed Detoxification Unit

by Mark Bugajski

Shelly Maiorana, substance abuse counselor at Mercy Hospitals in Grayling and Cadillac, and Father Jim Mausolf, Director of The Bishop's Task Force on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse, are leading efforts in combatting alcoholism and drug abuse in the area which include opening a detoxification unit in Grayling.

For the past two years, Father Jim Mausolf, pastor of St. Mary's Parish, Grayling, has been developing The Bishop's Task Force on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse, at the direction of Bishop Robert J. Rose of the Diocese of Gaylord. The goal of the Task Force is to generate a church response to alcoholism and other drug addiction.

Father Jim has been helping chemically dependent people in Crawford and Grand Traverse Counties for a number of years. He is now in the process of mobilizing a body of informed, motivated people to bring awareness of the disease of alcoholism and drug dependence out of the church closet and into open admission that this disease affects many people in both the church and the rest of the community.

To accomplish this goal, the Task Force is being designed to educate people to recognize the symptoms of alcoholism and other drug abuse, to see both as diseases rather than a lack of will power or moral fibre, and thus break the conspiracy of silence within the church and the community regarding those suffering from the disease. Members of the Task Force will be working throughout northern Michigan to help people familiarize themselves with the treatment services available in the area and to put afflicted people and their families in contact with professional counselling and treatment programs already in place.

Under the direction of Shelly Maiorana, substance abuse supervisor for Mercy Hospitals in Grayling and Cadillac, each hospital plans to open a detoxification unit sometime this summer. Four beds are planned in each hospital for the medical care necessary for safe withdrawal from alcohol and/or other chemicals. Patients will then be referred together with their family members to other facilities in the area capable of further guiding them on the road to recovery.

The National Council on Alcoholism estimates that one out of every four people is directly affected by alcoholism and other drug dependence.

For information on the Task Force or the Mercy Hospital programs, contact Fr. Jim at St. Mary's in Grayling (348-7291) or Shelly Maiorana at Mercy Hospital (348-5461).

Revised Natural River Plan Goes To NRC June 11

By Don Geiss

Eight changes have been made in the final draft of the Natural River Plan for the AuSable River but only one addresses individual property building restrictions.

The revised plan reduces the distance above the water table that fill will be permitted from six feet to four feet according to Douglas Carter, Natural River Plan director for the Department of Natural Resources.

The plan clarifies the DNR position on opposition to turning the program over to the federal government. It extends the coverage of the restrictions upstream on the North Branch to Ski Slope Drive and adds several tributaries with a significant flow and natural character.

Military activities along the AuSable River was stated in the plan as being "inappropriate." Numerous changes in wording for better clarification and understanding were also made according to a printed summary of the revised plan.

The summary points out that cooperative efforts have been emphasized regarding recreational controls and user conflicts along the river. Examination of the total plan indicates two sections which might clarify the user conflict change. That section under recreation-hunting and fishing states "It is emphasized that Natural River designation, or establishment of a zoning district along the river does not open private lands to the public."

Under the heading Natural River District the draft plan states, "Establishment of this district in no way implies a 'taking' of these lands by the state or opening them up to public use. Private lands remain private and are subject to the rights of private ownership."

The summary paper handles other questions raised by citizens for the most part by simply posing an opposing view. For instance: answering the question about the probability of property values decreasing, Carter states that natural river guidelines will protect property values. Countering the notion that zoning will be controlled in Lansing, Carter states that local government units are strongly encouraged to adopt natural river zoning in lieu of state zoning. However he comments, even state zoning will involve considerable local input.

According to Carter, the final draft will be discussed at the Natural Resources Commission (NRC) meeting on June 11. He said that the item is on the agenda for discussion only but whether or not the commissioners take immediate action to implement the plan is up to them at the time. The NRC took quick action on a discussion item when they declared the no-kill rules for trout on the Burton's Landing to Wakeley Bridge to be official.

The meeting on June 11 is scheduled to be held at the Ralph A. MacMullan Conference Center at Higgins Lake. Carter said that persons who wish to address the commission regarding the proposed plan should call 517-373-2352 to be placed on the agenda for the Thursday afternoon meeting.

Copies of the revised plan are now available at the Crawford County Clerk's office and the DNR office. Copies can also be sent to interested persons. They can be obtained by calling 517-373-1170.

Along with the revised plan are copies of the public hearings summary. Lawrence Witte, Acting Chief, Land and Water Management Division, reports approximately 380 people attended public hearings at Grayling, Tawas City, Roscommon, Atlanta, Gaylord, Lansing, Harrisville, and Mio. Seventy people presented testimony with 18 in support of the plan, 11 conditionally in favor, 20 were opposed, and 19 presented testimony non-committal in nature, according to the DNR summary. Almost all the opposition expressed came at the Grayling meeting, the report says. Of sixty letters received, 35 were in support, 5 conditionally in favor, 13 opposed, and 5 were non-committal.

Local Man Appointed By Andrews To Handle Summer Military Complaints

Major General Vernon J. Andrews, the Adjutant General of Michigan, has announced that Lt. Col. Pat Nunn, Camp Grayling's Deputy Commander, will handle complaints at Camp Grayling during the summer training months.

According to Andrews, Lt. Col. Nunn will respond to any citizen's complaint about noise pollution, aircraft flights in restricted areas and environmental damage within 24 hours of receiving a telephone complaint.

Lieutenant Colonel Nunn can be reached at (517) 348-7621 or (517) 348-3602 from the 6th of June until the 22nd of August.

Lieutenant Colonel Nunn will be assisted by a full-time environmental specialist to increase coordination with the Department of Natural Resources.

"Lieutenant Colonel Pat Nunn brings a great deal of experience to this new position and has my complete backing," said Andrews. "He is a graduate of the Field Artillery Officer Advance Course and totally understands the requirements of artillery training. He has served as Camp Grayling's Range Control Officer from 1977 until 1985 and has been Deputy Camp Commander for the past two years and is intimately familiar with military training requirements at Camp Grayling," said Andrews.

Besides fielding noise and environmental complaints, Lt. Col. Nunn will be available during the summer months to explain the military mission at Camp Grayling and what is being done to mitigate the training impact on the community to any interested citizen groups or committees. He will also

Mobilization Orders Won't Take Military By Surprise

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a four-part series on mobilization for war and what will happen in the event of a potential conflict on the national, international and local scene.)

The articles are written with the assistance of Lt. Col. Douglas Cardis, Camp Grayling Mobilization Planner, and is part of a continuing effort to keep the people of the local area informed about what is going on at the camp.)

Mobilization, An Overview

A fictitious scenario might find Russia suddenly attacking NATO forces instead of simply maneuvering on their side of the border. Those enemy soldiers would face a small but well equipped NATO force.

Suddenly this nation is confronted with a crisis which will demand moving reserve forces rapidly into the conflict. Congress, in the fictitious situation, declares war and now the National Guard from each state becomes detached from its position of providing disaster relief or maintaining public peace on a state level. They have become army forces ready to be called up for deployment.

That call-up is a first step in what is termed mobilization or the act of assembling and organizing national resources to support national objectives in the time of war or other emergencies. More specifically as it might apply to Camp Grayling and the Michigan National Guard, mobilization is the process by which the armed forces or part of them are brought together in a state of readiness for war or other national emergencies.

Thus far governmental officials have made decisions and definitions have supplied an idea of what mobilization means. But prior to these decisions the Army and the National Guard Bureau as well as local stations such as Camp Grayling have developed elaborate plans to get personnel, supplies and equipment together and from an assembly point to the battlefield.

Mobilization then is not something which suddenly confronts the military but is a scheme of elaborate plans along with training to move the troops first to a point where they can come together into a larger fighting unit (company to division). From that assembly point (Camp Grayling for instance) to a location where they can be moved overseas to a tactical Assembly Area is near the final goal in the process of mobilization.

"What people have to realize is that we have a constitutional mandate to train these units to be combat ready and part of that training requirement is the firing of artillery at night and training our pilots to fly

The first-ever Avalanche Lotto Contest wasn't quite as popular as the Michigan Lotto drawings. The Michigan Lottery has millions of players picking six numbers each week. We had 7 players picking ways to spend millions. So the first-ever Avalanche Lotto Contest becomes the last-ever Avalanche Lotto Contest.

But at least our odds of winning were a whole lot better. In our contest the players had a 1 in 7 chance to win. Those are the kind of contests I like to enter.

Even with our small number of entries, most of the people here had nice, unselfish ways to spend $1 million.

The winner of the first and last-ever Avalanche Lotto Contest is Allen Labo. He wins 25 Lotto computer pick tickets for Saturday's drawing and our best wishes toward winning the big jackpot. The Avalanche staff helped pick one winner and all the entries were close enough to winning to deserve honorable mention.

1st Place

If I could win a million dollars - I could get a new start in life - I am a male with two small children to raise. I have a five dollar an hr. job - I get no help except from my wonderful Mom and stepfather - I would get a place of my own and send Mom and Dad on a small vacation.

I may get the children and myself some of the things we can't have now then I think I would save some for my children's education.

Last but not least, I could get my son and myself hearing aids. I am almost completely deaf and my 6 year old boy is going deaf. It would buy my mom relief as we could be on our own.

Allen Labo
Grayling

Honorable Mention

Trying to keep my head on straight would be one of the very first things on my agenda if I were to win the Lotto.

The second thing? One thing I've wanted to do for years is find a young student who wants to go to college and has no way of doing so. I'd like to be able to help that student without he/she knowing where the money came from. Nor would I want anyone else to know. I've dreamed of doing this kind of thing since I was a little girl.

I'd spend some of the money on me, of course, but I feel education is so very important for everybody, and I'd sure like to help.

Patricia Schreiner
Grayling

Honorable Mention

If I were to win the lottery, I would want to do several things. First of all, I would want to remain anonymous. Second, I would set up a college fund for each of my children and nieces and nephews. Third, I would build an Olympic-size pool for the city of Grayling and would set up a fund large enough for maintaining it indefinitely.

I feel that giving the money away instead of spending it on myself is important for several reasons. Life is meaningless without a win-win attitude. Everybody in Grayling would be able to win with the use of a pool. I would win because I would be able to watch the entire city enjoy my gift. I would still remain anonymous so that I could freely give any remaining money without anyone begging for it.

(Name withheld by request)

Honorable Mention

First off I would probably faint at the realization of a dream come true. I have thought of this for the past 4 years. Ever since I have been working with the aged.

I would build a nice big well equipped nursing home and staff it with the most kind and most loving people to help me care for the dearest people of all, our senior citizens. I love them dearly.

Letters to the Editor

Whose Guns Would You Rather Hear?

Dear Editor:

First, I'd like to express publicly my gratitude to Mr. Dennis Ormsbee, Band Director, and the Crawford-AuSable School Band for their excellent performance and tribute to our Veterans this past Memorial Day at Grayling Cemetery services. All who took part, speakers, band, Honor Guard gave one of the most beautiful services I've seen in quite some time and gave me pause to think of all Veterans and active Armed Forces who have given life and limb and who today are at risk for our abundant freedoms.

Second, lately, we've seen various letters in the Avalanche regarding our National Guard who train in Crawford County. Some of these men went to work directly for the Guard and Reserve from our Armed Forces. Perhaps, it's time we gave our thanks to all Guards and to the Good Lord for them. Maybe, we should consider their "NOISE" when they practice weapons firing, etc. as "MUSIC" to our ears. One day if and when our enemies arrive, we'll realize that without the Guard's "simulated war practice" — we are indeed at a very grave disadvantage during a real attack.

Also, who does Michigan and every other State call on when a large disaster such as flooding, fires, earthquakes happen? Who gives a large percentage of their blood to the Crawford County Red Cross and other Community Red Crosses? Our National Guard! Why, then, must some of these letter-writers be so negative about the Guard? Is it because they live for today and refuse to look beyond the end of their noses? What would this part of the State do if suddenly the State and Federal Guard Bureau decided to take the Guard elsewhere to practice, another area might very well welcome them, their practice and their money-flow. Then all of you who wish "peace and quiet" in the Grayling area might get a "ghost-town"; I understand they're peaceful and not too progressive either.

Please quit judging all Guards by what a few may do when it comes to law-breaking, too. There are "law-breakers" in all phases of life today, most will get what they deserve. You seem to forget how many Guards live and work here on a full-time basis and how much they contribute to this community. Most are patriotic, hard-working and "givers." They attend many of your funerals as "Honor Guards," they march in your parades (some never receive even a slight "thank you"), they give blood, time and money to the community. Many members of Guard families work in and for their community and attend schools and college here. Please keep in mind what would happen in our area and our Country with an "UN-PREPARED" National Guard. As a close Guard friend of mine once said, "WHOSE GUNS WOULD YOU RATHER HEAR AT NIGHT, OUR'S OR THEIR'S?"

Respectfully,
Barbara M. Shepard

War Is Not Fought Only During Day

To The Editor:

I have been reading with interest the letters concerning the Military in our area; both pros and cons.

I am a senior citizen — I also live smack in the middle of the 612 County Rd. training area. I have had tanks down my driveway, but with a call to the Post Commander, it was fixed the next day.

I wonder what would happen if we had a disaster, such as a tornado, flood, etc.; would the people who have been so critical of the Guard, call them? I have no doubt the Guard would be the first to help.

We have been in a very fortunate position by not having an enemy invade these United States. What if they did? The National Guard would be the first to fight. When I am awakened at night by jets, or choppers, or guns blasting I thank the Good Lord it isn't for real! You see war is not fought at certain hours, they do fight day and night; if you would prefer untrained troops then so be it.

As far as the DNR is concerned, they do a good job of protecting our natural resources, but with a bit too much power.

I have watched the loggers rape the land and strip section after section. I have seen very little if any replanting, is this any worse?

The Guard was here a very long time before any of these people came here, myself for one. Do not judge a whole group by a few.

Sincerely,
Neva K. Case

GHS Band Director Saluted For Work

Dear Editor:

During the last few weeks at our local schools, there have been various awards ceremonies for the achievers of excellence. All are to be congratulated for these successes.

I would like to recognize one of our teachers. Mr. Dennis Ormsbee has done an outstanding job with the band program. Two of my children are in the band program and have benefited from the guidance he has provided. They are quite enthused about playing a musical instrument and are dedicated to practice. I believe this is due in part to Mr. Ormsbee's commitment to excellence.

Even though I do not have a great amount of personal contact with Mr. Ormsbee, I have found him to be considerate and understanding. I am most grateful for his ability to be flexible. This has allowed him to be an outstanding teacher and motivator.

Sincerely,
Bob Nolan

Pastor Not Surprised By Evidence Dispute

Dear Jon:

I was surprised by Rev. I.J. Mikulski's letter against our column, "The Bible Speaks." His public attack upon Malachi Martin's priesthood, character and conduct was certainly "a deliberate attempt at Catholic bashing." Since Rev. Mikulski gave no location, name, or date when he said, "Martin lied," it is difficult to confirm or disprove. But since an ordained priest bears "an indelible mark in the soul," it becomes the word of one priest against another priest.

Since Martin proved conclusively his premise that many Modernists and Marxists within the Jesuit order are fighting to control the Roman Catholic church, it is surprising that only 50 or so errors were claimed in Martin's book. Since many nearly private details were presented, I am surprised that more Jesuits did not try to deny or discredit the evidence. Since we have already printed enough evidence to raise serious questions, we would encourage disturbed Roman Catholics to read "The JESUITS, The Society of Jesus and the Betrayal of The Roman Catholic Church," then investigate the evidence and decide for yourself.

Since Rev. Mikulski is concerned about me "quoting reliable sources of Catholic teaching..." perhaps he should read some of our back articles of a year ago when we wrote on the new Catholic morality. Timothy E. O'Connell wrote the first American textbook on the new Catholic morality entitled, "Principles For a Catholic Morality." This textbook for Catholic Colleges and Universities is a classic example of why young Catholic students are losing their faith and patriotism in Catholic higher education. Many of them are becoming Modernists in theology, and Marxists in politics. The foreword to the book by Charles E. Curran sets the stage. The book closed with a Bibliography of 52 books printed in the 70's, 26 books printed in the 60's, and the other 6 printed in the 50's. There was not one textbook from the manuals of moral theology preceding Vatican II.

Most Roman Catholics I know do not accept the morals of modernism or the tyranny of Marxism. I believe they are thankful for men like Malachi Martin who gave them warning. Marxists will not ask you if you are a Catholic capitalist or a Baptist capitalist before they kill you "in love."

Legislature faces tough decision

by Richard Millman

DON'T LOOK NOW, but members of the Michigan Legislature are faced with yet another tough decision.

But heck, as they say down in the caucus, that's why they run for office and that's why we taxpayers pay them — to make tough decisions.

Looming on the decision-making horizon is this puzzler: When should the legislature start its summer recess?

THAT'S RIGHT. Our intrepid lawmakers are getting ready to pack up and leave Lansing for summer vacation. After all, who can make laws — or whatever it is that the Legislature does — when it's hot outside?

The current legislature convened in January. Since then, the roll call of action completed on legislation is not prodigious. Most of us can call to mind the bill to change worker compensation laws, and the increased speed limit legislation, which may or may not be completed before the lawmakers' summer vacation.

Other than that, what's happened in Lansing so far this year?

MEANWHILE, in some other states, the picture is a bit different. Down in Florida, for example, the 1987 Florida legislature completed its session and went home several weeks ago, after — among other things — adopting the state budget and passing a huge tax-change law.

But in Michigan? Well, here we have summer vacation at hand.

Florida, of course, has a part-time legislature; Michigan doesn't. Sort of makes you wonder sometimes.

Oh, well; Michigan lawmakers will get back on the job one of these days ... maybe in September or October, or surely before the snow flies. After all, our lawmakers work fulltime in Michigan, you know.

WISDOM FROM MARTY — Down in Washington, lawmakers face decisions of another sort — family decisions. Another Michigan congressman and his wife have decided to go separate ways. Rep. Bob Davis of Gaylord and his wife, Marty, have split.

National politics is tough on marital bliss — and that has no reference to the celebrated Gary Hart affair, either. But just go down the list of members of Congress who have become divorced, and you may be shocked by the statistics. It's too bad.

Marty Davis, describing her own situation, may have put her finger on at least part of the reason.

"IT'S NOT A Gary Hart type of thing; there's no other person involved," she said, of her separation from the Congressman. "But I feel sorry for political couples in that situation. If the excessive media scrutiny of private lives continues, it's going to be hard to get good people to run for public office." She's right, mostly. I'd question her putting the blame completely on the media; instead, she should substitute "public scrutiny" for "media scrutiny." It's the public that puts the squeeze on privacy ... maybe too much.

Does the fear of publicity keep some people out of politics? Probably.

And those who put family ahead of politics sometimes don't last too long or get too far in the gut-wrenching world of big-time politics.

MORE CANDIDATES — The lists are not closed yet on the 1988 presidential race. Every day it seems we're hearing about more candidates — both real and potential.

For example, U.S. Rep. Patricia Schroeder of Colorado reportedly is thinking about jumping into the Democratic race; she was co-chair of Gary Hart's campaign.

She said there are "just an awful lot of things I could contribute that aren't being said" by candidates already in the field. She sounds a bit like Mr. Hart already, doesn't she?

Then there's another darkhorse possibility. A recent bi-city newspaper item hints there's a "draft Jimmy Carter" movement afoot out east.

Well, why not? He's got the experience, and he knows the turf. Jimmy Carter might make a very credible candidate in 1988.

So keep your powder dry, folks. Personally, I hope both Rep. Schroeder and Mr. Carter jump in. The more the merrier.

Ponderings

Will many people attend the meeting?

By Don Geiss

On Thursday, June 11, the Natural Resources Commission will be meeting at the Ralph A. MacMullan Conference Center at Higgins Lake. On the Agenda for discussion is the question of whether the AuSable River and its tributaries will be placed on the state's Natural Rivers list.

When the subject of that meeting came up some people thought that the conference hall would not hold all of the people who would show up. Apparently the current thought is that many of those who said they would be there will change their mind. The meeting place was not changed and the session will be held in the relatively small facility at Higgins Lake.

Douglas Carter, the DNR official who is in charge of developing the Natural Rivers plans for the various rivers in the state, commented that there would not be too many people show up. He apparently is steered by the fact that other communities have not opposed the plan to any extent.

His figures show that in the public hearings, 18 persons spoke for the plan and 20 spoke against it. He has received letters with 37 persons in favor of the plan and 13 against. We would suspect that the majority of persons who spoke against the plan did so at the Grayling meeting.

Carter is not certain that the Natural Resources Commission will only discuss the matter. He believes that the same thing could happen that occurred at the meeting to discuss the No-kill Regulations on the AuSable. They had the item on the agenda apparently for discussion only but then immediately voted on it.

There was no chance for anyone to speak on the matter because the issue was not too well announced in advance. There was no time lag to allow the public to voice an opinion.

Now the same type of issue is before residents along the AuSable River. The banks of the stream could be under state control by the end of the day Thursday or by the latest Saturday night. We believe that the plan will be imposed at some time. The only question is will the residents fail to attend and instead go down without a fight?

Child, Adult Rides Featured At Fair

The 1987 Crawford County Fair will run five days this year, Tuesday - Sunday, Aug. 4-9, and many new attractions are being scheduled to fill the fairgrounds.

Featured this year will be a bingo tent from the 5th through the 8th starting at noon and running until 8:00 each day.

Two main features that have been a hit in the past, are the Chili Contest and the Lip Sync Contest. These events have always shown interest and expect to have good participation again this year and will be held on Wednesday, August 5th.

The schedule on Thursday, August 6th, will include a 10:00 a.m. canine exhibition with Linda Sprague and also the K-9 Corp at 10:30 with a demonstration. At 3:00 there will be a cat show and later, at 7:00 a dog show will be featured.

On Friday, there will be a variety show presented by the Crawford County Arts Council, beginning at 7:00 p.m. Also, demonstrations in the martial arts will be an attraction in the early evening.

Saturday, August 8th, will be a big day at the fair. Saturday is Kids Day with many activities including a children's midway, characters from McDonald's, and an equestrian show will be featured at 2:00 p.m. At 4:00 p.m. a chicken barbecue will be featured with a complete meal being served by the Crawford County Fair Association for a nominal charge. At 7:00, another martial arts demonstration will take place. These martial art events will be under the direction of Gary and Sandy Hasson who teach locally.

Sunday will begin with a Sunrise service which will be non-denominational, followed by a pancake breakfast served by the Crawford County Fair Association from 10:00 to 2:00. Children's games will be featured from noon to three and the afternoon will also feature some Bluegrass and square dancing. A Sing-a-long is another activity on Sunday afternoon with the theme for the day being a family day to enjoy together.

The Crawford County Fair Association at this time, also encourages all who are interested in exhibiting their talents to please plan on their projects now. There will be cash premiums paid to winners in their respective categories.

Plan your entry and have it ready to register for Tuesday, August 6th, at the Exhibit Building at the fairgrounds.

The carnival providing rides this year is Cook Amusement and will be bringing with them rides for the whole family, adults included. Fair dates were changed this year to accommodate the availability of this company so that Crawford County Fair could offer more attractions.

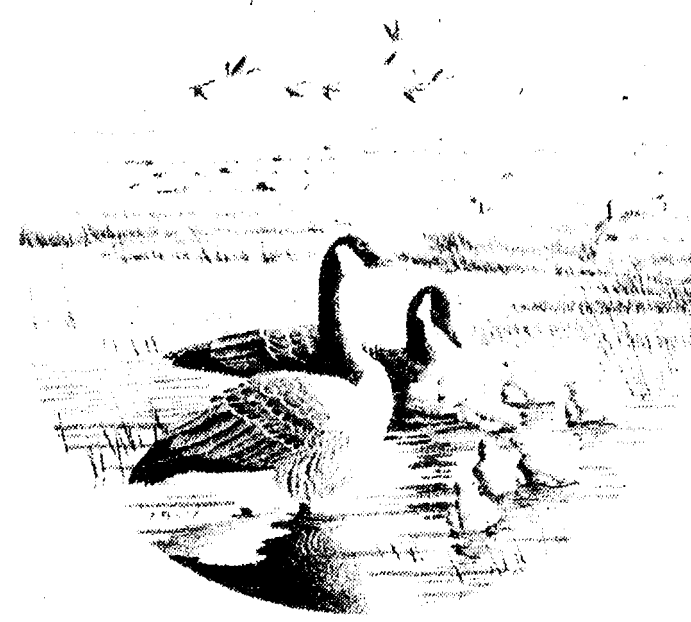

Preceding the actual start of the fair, a Little Miss Pageant will be held on Saturday, August 1st, from 1:00 to 3:00 at the Crawford County Fairgrounds. Three contestants will be chosen, one in each age group of 3-4, 5-6, and 7-8, and will reign over the fair the following week. Entries must be in by June 30th. (See related article).

Mercy Hospital Considers Changing Its Name

The two Mercy Hospitals in Grayling and Cadillac are considering a name change. The hospitals are owned and operated by the Sisters of Mercy Health Corporation, and the new name would identify all locations of Mercy's facilities and services in northern Michigan.

"We are much more than hospitals," said Robert Maher, President and Chief Executive Officer of the two Mercy Hospitals. "We are a system that offers a wide range of services. Hospitalization is and will continue to be an important part of our mission, but our range of services will continue to expand beyond traditional hospital care. A new name that will reflect this is needed." Changes in the way Medicare and other insurance pay hospitals are providing incentives for alternatives to traditional inpatient care. Also, advances in technology and medical practice have made outpatient services and other diagnostic improvements more common and comfortable for patients. Consequently, many hospitals have found it advantageous to develop many new nontraditional services.

The Mercys in Grayling and Cadillac offer traditional hospitalization, psychiatric rehabilitation, emergency services, nursing home care, substance abuse services, child care, shelter for victims of domestic violence, as well as a comprehensive range of outpatient treatment and diagnostic services. Home health nursing and medical equipment are offered through a subsidiary corporation, Amicare, with offices in Grayling, Cadillac and Houghton Lake.

In the past three years the two Mercy Hospitals have been working together to reduce costs and to coordinate services. This has made possible the addition of the new services. Many personnel are shared between both hospitals. In January of this year Maher was named President and Chief Executive Officer of both institutions. The entire administrative staff has responsibilities in both locations as well as several department directors. These shared personnel result in significant savings as well as improved coordination between the hospitals, say Mercy administrators.

The Divisional Boards, physicians and employees are discussing the name change. The public also has the opportunity to offer their input. Examples of possible names will be displayed in the lobbies of both hospitals in Grayling and Cadillac along with a suggestion box.

"It's important that the new name preserve our heritage. Both hospitals have deep roots and values we don't want to lose in a name change," agreed Paul Lerg and Doug Lape, Chairs of the Mercy Divisional Boards. "At the same time it is important that we adapt to changing times and promote ourselves for the many services we offer."

Lobby displays of the new name and identity formats will be available to the public for viewing at Mercy-Grayling the week of June 8, and at Mercy-Cadillac the week of June 15. It is expected that the Divisional Boards will have decided on a new name by the end of July.

Vikings Ruin Petoskey's Title Bid In 8-6 Win

Grayling finished the year with an 8-6 win over Petoskey, denying Petoskey the league championship outright. The loss at Cornell Field left Petoskey in a tie for first with Cheboygan for the league title.

Petoskey jumped out to 4-0 lead on a grand slam in the opening inning. The Vikings got one back when John Kinnee doubled, Brian Palmer singled, and Joe Ruddy hit a groundball to score Kinnee.

Petoskey scored one more in the third to go ahead 5-1. Then the Vikings scored six times in the bottom of the third. Jim Knight led off with a double. Meagher drove him home with a single and took second on the throw. Flaskie Robins moved Meagher to third with a groundball. Jeff Palmer drove in Meagher with a single. Dave Somerville reached first on a throwing error that scored Palmer. Kinnee reached base with a single and Brian Palmer, a freshman, cleared the bases with a three-run home run.

Grayling scored one more run in the fourth when Jeff Palmer singled and stole second. Somerville drove him home with a double.

Petoskey hit another home run in the fifth to make it 8-6. Chris Skidmore pitched all seven innings against Petoskey scattering seven hits.

Petoskey finished 14-2 in the league this year and Grayling is one of only a few teams to beat Petoskey this year. Petoskey has advanced to the semi-finals in the state tournament in class B and needs only two wins this weekend for the title. The Vikings finished 10-6 in the league and 14-8 overall. Two close losses to Cheboygan hurt Grayling two weeks ago. The Vikings lost 4-3 and 7-6 in a doubleheader at Cheboygan.

Skidmore went eight innings in an extra-innings loss in the first game. Grayling scored on a RBI single by Somerville and an RBI double by Jeff Palmer to tie the game 2-2 after five innings. Cheboygan hit a home run in the bottom of the sixth but Jeff Wolcott hit a home run for Grayling in the top of the seventh to tie the game 3-3. Another home run by Cheboygan in the eighth ended the game. Somerville led the hitting with 3 hits.

In the second game, Grayling fought back from a 6-2 deficit to pull within one at 6-5. Cheboygan hit a home run to go ahead 7-5 in the bottom of the fourth. In the top of the fifth Somerville doubled, Robins singled, and Wolcott singled to drive in a run to make it 7-6. After a walk loaded the bases, a pop up was hit to the third baseman. He dropped the ball but managed to throw home for a force out and the catcher threw to third for another force out. Viking coach Fred Wolcott argued for an infield fly rule call but the call was never made and Grayling was taken out of a big inning.

The Vikings loaded the bases in the seventh but couldn't score again.

Jeff Palmer pitched the entire game for Grayling.

Spike's took the nightcap by a 16-9 score. Alexander and Johnston led the hitting attack for Spike's while Smith homered for the Lehman Eagles.

Scheer Motors maintained its hold on second place by splitting a doubleheader with the Holiday Inn. Scheer's jumped out to a quick lead in the first inning and then played good defense for a 11-4 victory. Holiday Inn came back to win the second game 4-3 behind a fine pitching performance by Tim Krey.

Wednesday night action saw Airway Automation and Weyerhaeuser split a pair of close games. Airway won the opening game 6-5 by scoring three runs in the bottom of the seventh inning. Bill Houghton hit the game winning sacrifice fly.

Weyerhaeuser took a 6-5 victory in the nightcap in another defensive battle. Dave Ginkle was the winning pitcher.

Camp Lehman avenged an earlier doubleheader loss by finishing the week with a double victory over the Holiday Inn. Resource Review

In the past I have written about the unsuitability of wild animals as pets. In those instances I have focused on the facts that it is unlawful to remove animals from the wild and that such animals are likely to become vicious as they grow older.

I have recently read articles which show that raccoons can be carriers of a disease which may cause blindness or death in humans.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of my father, James "Ray" Murphy who passed to his reward 16 June 67.

The passing years, have dried my tears
Have somehow eased my pain
But what I give, If we could live
One of those happy days again
To have a talk, to take a walk
To share one quiet hour
To see you smile, for a little while
I would do all in my power
But life goes on, and you're beyond
My power to touch or see
But there's not been a day, since you passed away
That you haven't lived in memory.

Michigan Arts Council Sponsors Workshop

Poet and fiction writer Michael Delp held a three-day poetry writing residency for Middle School and High School students of the Crawford-AuSable School District on April 27-29, thanks to a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts, the Advanced Studies Program and local donations.

Advanced Studies instructor Nancy Lemmen applied for a Creative Writers in the Schools (CWIS) grant from the MCA in December of 1986. Matching funds from the local organization and/or private donations were a requirement for receipt of the grant monies.

Delp, the Creative Writing Director of Interlochen Arts Academy and a freelance writer, held three workshops with 30 students from the Advanced Studies Program in grades 6-12 and did four separate seminars — open to anyone with an interest in writing — with nearly 70 other students from M.S. and H.S. English classes.

During the workshops and seminars, Delp read students samples of his published works and worked with them on writing techniques. Students wrote several original poems during the sessions.

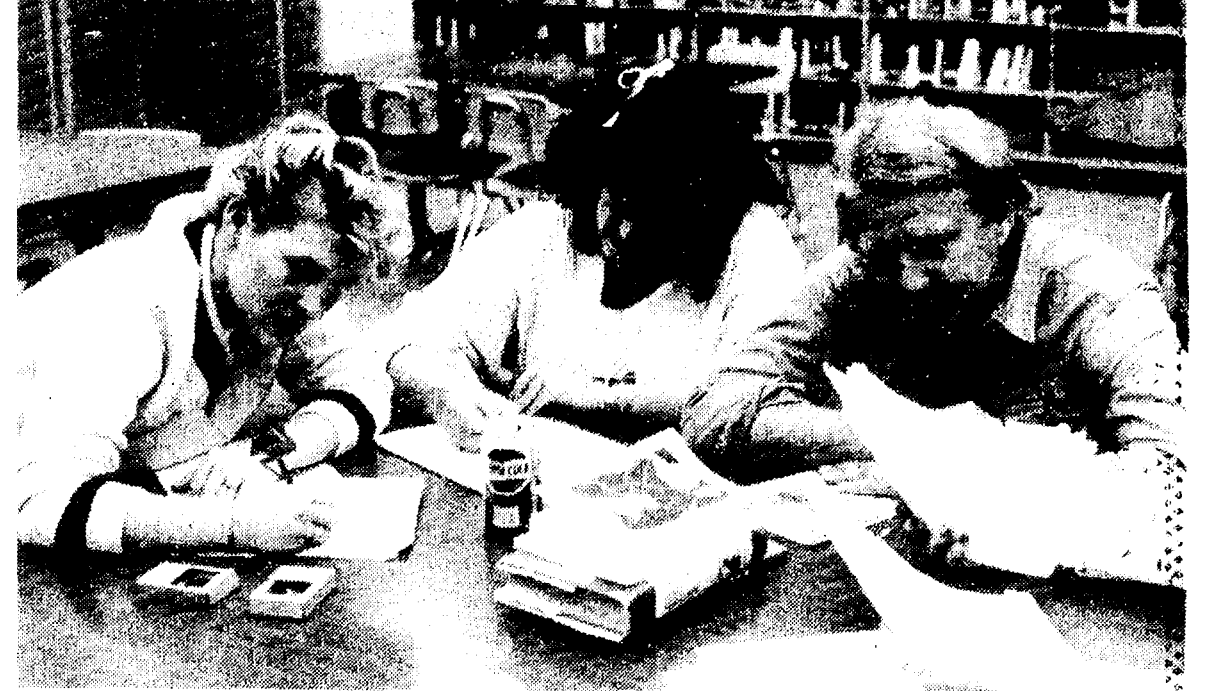

He spent the rest of each school day stationed in the Library, working with students individually and in small groups in consultation sessions. They were invited to bring him samples of any previous writing, for which he provided critiques.

Delp also gave a reading of his poetry in the High School Library on Tuesday evening, April 28, which was open to residents of the Grayling community.

"The students were really excited about the workshops," said Lemmen. "Several of them told me they learned a lot about writing and wrote their best poetry ever in those three days."

"It's always been a goal of the Advanced Studies Program to encourage creative writing; and working with a professional writer makes the students realize that real people get their work published, that they can do it too. It's quite obvious that we have a lot of students in our school district who are interested in writing well," said Lemmen.

CREATIVE WRITERS AT WORK — Writer-in-residence Michael Delp works with seniors Erin Hickey and Andrea Bedard on their poetry.

North Branch Notes

By Marlene Harris

There is a special bug in the air that breeds rapidly just as soon as the weather gets warm. It can lay dormant all through the snowy season but when the temperature climbs and the snow melts, the bug bites and an itch begins. Once this strange bug bites, you might as well know that you are in its clutches the rest of your life. To sooth the itch, I recommend approximately eight to ten iron, two to four woods, and a stroll around your favorite golf course. It is, of course, the "Golf Bug."

One of our North Branch area couples who have been bitten by this bug are Clarence and Clara Beaufait. They belong to the same couples league at the Grayling Country Club that Bill and I belong to.

Clara was born on a farm in Marquette County in the Upper Peninsula in 1909 where she spent the first eighteen years of her life. She moved to Detroit and worked for the Michigan Central Railroad in the rolling stock department until it was sold to New York Central.

She was married the first time to Albert Durov. They spent twenty five years in the Upper Peninsula at Menominee where they owned and operated a resort consisting of cabins, groceries and gas. During this time they had four children: Marlene, who died at age four and a half; Elroy and his wife Monique (originally from Germany), and their two daughters, all residing in Providence, Rhode Island; Elaine and her husband Dick Goodell with their three boys living in Lake Worth, Florida; Allen Durov and his wife Gloria with two boys living in Menominee.

One of the grandsons has given Clara a great granddaughter. The resort seemed to draw several famous people to its doors for relaxation. Some were entertainers who were in Vaudeville at the Fox Theatre: Lulu Belle and Skyland Scottie, Hank Williams, Sr., and the couple who portrayed Popeye and Olive Oyle.

There were others who "entertained" the country at that time also, but for other reasons: John Dillinger, Ma Barker, and assorted Chicago gangsters who were "resting from their labors."

Clara tells me that Ma Barker was the homeliest woman she had ever seen. She found out that Ma Barker would scout the countryside looking for places to rob and then write the instructions to her sons telling them where to go and the best escape route to take.

Clara said that many of the gangster types would pay their bill in all change, so she was sure it was the ill-gotten "fruits of their labor."

When Clara was widowed in 1955 she moved to West

Palm Beach, Florida, where she worked at Kings Department Store. During her single years she visited one of her sons in France and Germany and two years later traveled to Finland with a tour group.

Clarence was born in 1903 in Wyoming, Canada, where his father worked in a mill owned by one of Michigan's former Governors. They all moved to Michigan at Ontonagon after a few years. Clare's earliest memories are of the wolves howling each time there was a forest fire near there. He remembers the townspeople telling of fleeing to the river to survive when the town burned down in the early 1900's.

His family moved to Detroit in 1909 where Clare grew up attending St. Leo's school and then North-western High School.

Clare was offered a job working for Westinghouse in South America. He got as far as Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, where he visited his brother-in-law and worked for him learning the electrical trade, instead of continuing on to South America. He later moved back to Detroit where he met and married his first wife, Eleanor, who was Clara's sister.

They were married for 49 years before Clare became a widower. During these years they raised one son, Bill, who is now a retired Bio Physicist for the National Forest Service.

One of Clare's grandsons, Paul, teaches school in Japan where he lives with his wife, Yukiko and their daughter. Another grandson, David is a doctor in New Hampshire and has delighted Clare with two great grandchildren, both girls. His grandson Mark, is an attorney in Seattle and his granddaughter Susan, also lives in Seattle and is an electrical engineer.

Before World War II Clare worked for the TVA (Tennessee Valley Authority) as an electrician. His skills also took him to Washington, D.C. during the war where he worked on the Army-Navy Munitions Building, which is four blocks long. He then moved back to Michigan and worked at Fords in Dearborn in defense work where he saw Gen. Eisenhower many times as he inspected the aircraft engines made there.

Clare has worked most of his life as an electrical construction superintendent and retired at the age of 65 as a long-time member of Electricians Local 58.

In 1946 a buddy of his invited him on a fishing trip to our North Branch area where Clare later bought his north woods home, which is at least seventy years old.

When he retired, he and Eleanor moved to our area. When she died in 1971, Clare spent his winters in Florida. Since he and Clara had known each other almost all their lives, and both had lost their mates, it was easy for a long friendship to blossom into romance. After three years of dating they were married in 1974.

These two delightful people spend their winters in Florida and their summers in our area for the fishing and golfing. They are both members of the Lovells Hook and Trigger Club.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover,
Park Interpreter

As you walk the trail of the Tall Timber, there is an area that is now covered with pines some thirty feet tall. Most of these pines, Red and White, are close to the same age and the competition for the available sunlight, water and nutrients is very much in evidence. Many of the lower branches and smaller trees are dead because they were shaded by the canopy.

As the trees continue to grow they will develop straight limb free trunks and hopefully a hundred years from now they will have the stature of their taller, nearby relatives in the Tall Timber.

Some plants don't rely on the sun to eliminate other plants. The roots of the Black Walnut tree give off a poison which inhibits the growth of some plants which could compete. The leaves of American Beech release a chemical as they decay which prevent their own seeds from germinating. This explains why there are very few beech seedlings in the Virgin Pines in comparison to the number of maple seedlings.

Animals such as deer or rabbits also help some plants survive while keeping others in check depending upon which plant is the favored food.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

CONSERVATIVE CATHOLIC DILEMMA

What will conservative Catholics do who hate communism and modernism? What will be the guide of Catholic morality for the next generation?

Many conservative Roman Catholics hate communism and modernism as much as we do, and we truly feel for them at this time. A highly visible Pope keeps trying to assure them that all is well, but advancing change with the church gives contrasting testimony that terrible wickedness is taking control.

We have all gained deep respect for the anti-communist and anti-modernist views of ex-Jesuit Malachi Martin as stated in his new book, "The JESUITS, The Society Of Jesus And The Betrayal Of The Roman Catholic Church." Martin, in an interview with "The Wanderer," a conservative Roman Catholic newspaper, indicated strongly that the Pope would be killed if he cleaned modernism from the church. He said the Pope can't even mail a letter or make a telephone call for himself. He went on to say, "He's a prisoner. Even when he goes to the bathroom, two guards have to go with him."

Former CIA director William J. Casey requested for his funeral that donations be sent to the "William J. Casey Fund for the Nicaraguan Freedom Fighters," yet, when his bishop, John McGann delivered a eulogy for Casey in the presence of President Reagan and other distinguished guests, he discredited Casey and President Reagan's foreign policy in Nicaragua, and defended the position of the U.S. Catholic Bishops who support Marxism in Latin America. William F. Buckley Jr., also a conservative Roman Catholic, disclosed the details of the story, and told how Jeane Kirkpatrick "received a spontaneous ovation from the congregation" for her brave extemporaneous remarks about Casey following McGann's eulogy. She called Casey, a "bold, committed man, in an age rent by controversy" who was not "afraid of the devil."

Why do conservative Roman Catholics remain in the church when they know it is being taken over by Modernists and Marxists? Perhaps Malachi Martin says it all in these words, "He's my Pope, and I shall stick with him no matter what he does, because he's the only man who links me with Jesus, jurisdictionally. On this earth, my only historic line back with Jesus Christ my Savior, is that man. I have to stick with him."

Many conservative Roman Catholics who believe the final war will be between Communism and Christianity, do not yet realize the Papes have already sold out to both Marxism and Modernists. (Hear "The Bible Speaks" Tuesday at 12:15 p.m. on WQON 100 FM).

CHURCH DIRECTORY

To Be Involved...

That's tidal water, and he's sitting "awfully" close to the edge of it. Soon he's going to get his feet wet, and his tackle and other paraphernalia will be drenched!

It's foolishly optimistic to imagine that the tides, or life itself will stand still for you. It's more comfortable to just bask there thinking that fish are going to bite, and that you won't have to move. But it's not realistic!

Nor is this living. We tend to forget that the idea of life is to get into the mainstream, not to cuddle up on the shore. The church today is running with the current. Won't you discover it for yourself?

COMBINED NOTICE NOTICE TO PUBLIC OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT ON THE ENVIRONMENT AND NOTICE TO PUBLIC OF REQUEST FOR RELEASE OF FUNDS

JUNE 10, 1987

COUNTY OF CRAWFORD - COUNTY BUILDING
GRAYLING, MICHIGAN 49738

(517) 348-2841, ext. 253

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS, AND PERSONS:

BUILDING TRADES — The building trades GHS class of 1986-87 — Aaron Ashton, Steve Belcher, Chris Edinger, Robert Fenton, Jerry Gauthier, Todd Hatfield, Rick Sprague, Louis Turner, Brian Johnson, Jay Dannenberg, Jeff Golnick, Dennis O'Toole, John Wakeley, Joel Wegner, Jerry Owens, Paul Owens, and Kerry Harwood — worked on both the Frederic house and the concession building. The building trades class of 1985-86 also worked on the house — Scott Wyskiel, Dave Cornell, Jeff Bates, Paul Owens, Greg Messerschmidt, Jeff Golnick, Richard Brooks, Steve Breitfield, Joe Bordeaux, Jim Sorenson, Scott Wakeley, Don May, Steve Hollis, Jan Grounds, and John Walsh. The instructors were Dale Lesh and Jerry Ball.

GHS Building Trades Renovates Frederic Home

It has taken two years and two building trades classes but a home that was in poor condition is now renovated and up for sale.

Some time ago the house was given to Grayling High School by the Grayling State Bank. It then was the task of the classes of 1986 and 87 to tear it apart and put it back together again. The finished product is now available for viewing and is one that a family would be proud to own (the writer was on hand to see it then and can testify to the changes made).

Dale Lesh, high school Building Trades instructor, said that the profits from the sale of the home will be applied toward the purchase of materials for the present project. That too is about to be completed as the class of 1987 has constructed a combination refreshment stand and ticket booth at the high school football field.

To class it as a booth does not do justice to the building as it resembles a small home from the outside. Lesh said that the value with materials and labor would probably be about $8-10,000.

The revamped home in Frederic has had an addition of 352 square feet, and total inside reconstruction. Hot water heat, plumbing, roofing, drywall, paneling and carpeting are also items that have been installed or added to create the finished product.

I Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You By Mike Fortino Sales Representative

Did you know that a current big league player - outfielder Gary Redus - set an amazing record when he was in the minors...Redus had the second-highest batting average of all-time for a season in pro baseball when he hit .462 for Billings in the Pioneer League in 1978...The only regular player who ever hit higher in pro ball over a full season was Walter Malmquist who batted .477 for York in the Nebraska State League in 1913.

Here's one that may surprise you...Of all the players in big league baseball history in this century, which one made the most errors?...Oddly enough, it was a man who was one of the first to be elected to the Hall of Fame and a man who's been called one of the greatest shortstops of all-time, Honus Wagner...Wagner made 676 errors...No other big leaguer ever made more.

How many holes of golf can you play in one day?...The Guinness Book of Records has certified that Mark Mothens set a world record last year by playing 724 holes in 24 hours at the Rockwood Golf Course in Ft. Worth, Tex.!

Goodale Family Creates Baking Legacy

By Don Geiss

From a small grocery store in Plymouth, Michigan, in 1954 to the modern day bakery in Grayling is a story of family dedication to make the nickname "Goodale's Goodies" a drawing card to customers nearby, outstate and out-of-state.

Loren Goodale Sr. sold out a large grocery store in 1953 and Loren II and his mother opened a small grocery store while Loren Sr. went to work at Krogers. The business grew and Loren Sr. came back to work with his son in 1956. The business finally grew to house a bakery, delicatessen and grocery store. Also in 1956 Loren II took over all of the baking from his mother and worked the midnight shift all during his senior year of high school.

In 1967 the building housing the store was sold by the owners and Loren II moved to Grayling and began a Sear's Order Store. After three and one half years the lure of baking and being his own boss dictated that a new bakery would begin here. He started up the business in the building that now houses WQON Radio.

In 1978 Goodale's was moved to its present quarters where the coffee shop was added. But now we are ahead of the story — Loren Sr. supposedly retired in 1967 at the age of 62 but when Loren II began the bakery here he was talked into going back to work. He claims that he works more hours now than when he was in Plymouth.

And now comes the third generation — Loren III, who is now 24, began helping his dad at the age of nine. In the original store only coffee was sold but after moving into the larger quarters the restaurant complex was started. It has been continued on a self serve basis. When it began, a two burner coffee pot was used but now there is a three burner plus a new two burner coffee pot. Loren II said that there are times when another pot should be added.

In Plymouth the store had considerable fame numbering famous poet and radio personality "Bud" Guest among its customers. Loren II remembers when the store supplied a large tray of cold cuts and birthday cake to Guest and his radio program staff. Guest dutifully "plugged" the Goodale store.

Also in the memory book are meetings with Detroit Tiger baseball announcers Paul Carey, Ernie Harwell and Al Kaline. They bragged about the world's greatest coffee cake made by the Goodales. Actually Loren II said that it was a Hungarian Coffee Cake with lots of cinnamon, sugar and nuts and was divided into 12 pieces. Many years have gone by but the announcers still remember them when they visit during a ball game, Loren II said.

Loren II also remembers sending goodies out west and salt rising bread to Maine. On one occasion one dozen filled jelly rolls were to be sent to Oregon on UPS overnight. The cost to ship them was $15 but that was all the customer sent so the Goodales donated the rolls.

Daughter Linda is the most recent person to begin the task of making someone's life sweeter when she began two years ago to decorate the cakes. At about the same time, the delicatessen was added because Loren II believed there was room for the Kowalski products to be sold in the area. He feels vindicated on that decision because every order from the company has exceeded the minimum.

From its beginning with three employees, the business now has 10 including five ladies up front. Loren II said that they may well add another helper in the near future. Business continues to grow, he said and since they do not use much automation the help is vital. "We still bake the old fashioned way," he said, "because it turns out tastier baked goods."

The job of baking demands mostly night work he observed. Two men and a trainee come in at midnight and Loren Sr. comes in at 4:30 a.m. (Remember this is a man who retired once and is now 82 years old.) Loren II comes in at 6:30 a.m. and Loren III comes in at 8:30 a.m. On weekends, the men start at midnight on Thursday and someone will be on hand until 6 p.m. Saturday.

Presently the outside of the store is receiving a "face lift" Loren II said. The new awnings are what is known as edible colors such as peach and the cream colored called ripe wheat. A new logo was added last fall when the smiling tiny baker pulling a wagon with a doughnut in it showed up. At one time a tiny baker was seen balancing a doughnut on his finger.

The "Goodies By Goodale" slogan began with a joke sign which a friend had painted and put in place when the store originally opened. The slogan stuck and it has been with the store ever since.

Since the original store opened Loren II has still found the time to work as a volunteer for the Grayling/Grayling Township Volunteer Fire Department. He retired in May of this year as the chief of the department because of the press of business.

Visitors will be seen during the morning hours trying out the "goodies" and sipping coffee. They will also be wandering in and out throughout the day to pick out the delicacies to take home or to the cottage. Meanwhile the regulars will also be at the coffee tables for the morning "yak" session and on the way out the door will pick up more sweets to take to the office.

The big question is — "Is there a person here who has not sampled the Goodies by Goodale?"

GOODIES BY GOODALE -- The Goodale Bakery on Norway Street is usually a busy spot.

The Outpost Captures Customers With Souvenirs and Jewelry Items

The Outpost may sound like a store on the frontier but the location in downtown Grayling and the product inside is aimed at a more urban population.

According to co-owner Mary Ann Madill, there was a real need for a souvenir store in Grayling and there was an ideal location across the street from the historical museum. She observed that the fine candies supplied by an old and famous Detroit candy maker has been a treat for residents and visitors alike. Many other gift items such as the costume jewelry and Black Hills Gold have also impressed all comers.

The Black Hills Gold jewelry is made in Deadwood, South Dakota, where one of the few mines still working for gold is located. The gold of 10-12 carat is mixed with zinc and copper to bring out pink or green color.

Also a favorite at the store during its few short weeks of operation has been the Desert Pueblo Pottery. Madill said that it is inspired by the American Indian. She noted that each piece is hand painted and etched with authentic Indian symbols.

Petoskey stone jewelry and knickknacks will also be a specialty of the store, Madill commented. Other lines carried by the Outpost include fancy belt buckles, knives, children's toys (many of them of an Indian nature), plaques, tee shirts, sweat shirts and figurines. In addition they carry safe fire-works, Minnetonka moccasins and novelties.

The Outpost is located across the parking lot from the Shoppenagon Motor Hotel on Norway Street. If the name Madill sounds familiar, it may well be because it has been connected with the famous Frederic Souvenir factory for years.

THE OUTPOST -- These customers enjoy looking over the wide selection of items at the new Outpost store in Grayling.
